CITELINE | A NEW ERA OF CLINICAL INSIGHT

Making Sense of the ICH GCP E6(R3) Update

The International Council for Harmonisation (ICH) has updated its Good Clinical Practice (GCP) guideline, effective July 25, 2025. ICH GCP is an international, ethical, scientific, and quality standard to help assure the rights, safety, and well-being of trial participants.

How Citeline Helps Put Good Clinical Practice into Practice

- Use of digital and AI-enabled insights
- Strategic feasibility and trial planning
- Risk-based quality management
- Advanced data governance and transparency
- Broader stakeholder collaboration
- Flexible, patient-centric trials

Visit our GCP Resources Hub

Don't be put on the spot for complying with the new Good Clinical Practice guidelines.

White Paper: 'What Is ICH GCP, and How Does It Impact Clinical Planning?'

Webinar: 'Navigating the New Era of Good Clinical Practice' - October 24th

FAQs: '10 FAQs on What Changed & What It Means for Your Trials'

VISIT THE RESOURCE HUB

www.citeline.com/en/gcp-guidance-hub

TRANSFORMING THE WAY YOU SEE THE WORLD